The IEEE Communications Society invites the world's leading researchers and engineers from academia, industry and government to exchange their ideas at the IEEE ICC 2010 conference in Cape Town, South Africa in May 2010. This flagship International Communications Conference (ICC) will be hosted at the CTICC. This will be the first time that ICC will take place in Africa. With Cape Town being voted one of the most beautiful cities in the world, this promises to be an exceptional world-class conference.

Besides the opportunity for high-quality discussions about the most recent technologies and business applications, the IEEE ICC 2010 offers an extraordinary visibility with the powerful, international audience attending the conference. The IEEE ICC attracts all major role players in communications, i.e., leading customers, operators, vendors, researchers, investors and press. It has a long track record with an increasingly powerful, loyal audience and is considered as a "major communications event" since 1965. The conference theme "Communications: Accelerating Growth and Development" aims to focus on the role that Communications in the rapid development of communication in Africa.

The character of the event as places where important ideas are exchanged, recent developments are discussed and current products are presented is evident and continually reinforced throughout the event.

To improve the conference's diversity, the ICC 2010 provides an integrated exhibition area close to technical sessions, coffee areas and poster areas to ensure continuous exposure to delegates and potential clients. This is an excellent opportunity to show case your company and get in touch with the best and most ambitious talents and opportunities in industry and academia.
